

2023 Pre-University Program for International Students

Fudan University

Founded in 1905, Fudan University was the first institution of higher education established by Chinese people. It has a world-class outstanding reputation and ranks between 30 and 60 among global universities. Fudan University has more than 12 disciplines including Philosophy, Economics, Law, Education, Literature, History, Science, Engineering, Medicine, Management, Art, and other interdisciplinary subjects, and is one of the top comprehensive universities in China.

The Pre-University Program is an intensive undergraduate preparatory education program for outstanding high school graduates who intend to attend Fudan University to pursue an undergraduate degree. Relying on our rich teaching resources and teaching faculty, the program will comprehensively improve students' fundamental Chinese language skills, academic proficiency in Chinese, and general education abilities through intensive Chinese, Mathematics, Physics and Chemistry courses. Also, students can achieve the connection between high school and university courses. The program will also provide undergraduate general education courses for students to choose so that students can experience the campus life and learning atmosphere of Fudan University in advance. Students who perform well, pass the assessment, and pass the undergraduate admission interview, will get the opportunity to be admitted as undergraduates of Fudan University.

Fudan University has 70 years of experience in teaching Chinese as a foreign language and is one of the first group of four bases of teaching Chinese as a foreign language in China. Fudan University and Chinese Testing International (CTI) of Center for Language Education and Cooperation of Ministry of Education of China jointly established the world's first innovative research base focusing on international Chinese education and testing—"FUDAN-CTI Innovation Centre for International Chinese Education and Testing", providing think tank services for the research and development, testing and application of various standards for international Chinese education.

After long-term exploration and practice, Fudan University has formed a mature Chinese language teaching model characterized by "Refined Levels and Gradual Progress", and formulate and implement a complete set of teaching management system including Chinese teaching design, curriculum setting, testing and evaluation, etc. Every year, more than 3,000 foreign students from more than 100 countries study Chinese at Fudan University.

Fudan University's disciplines in Mathematics, Physics and Chemistry have a solid foundation and outstanding achievements. They are all Class A Disciplines under the "Double First-Class" construction of the Ministry of Education of China, and have a group of strong teaching faculties. Mathematics education of Fudan University owns a prominent position in China and has considerable influence around the world. The teaching faculty of Physics and Chemistry are the first batch of outstanding teaching teams in China. A series of new textbooks they compiled have won China's national and Shanghai Excellent Textbook Awards.

Fudan University will provide one-stop on-campus services for students, and provide point to point admission guidance for future undergraduate studies. Through the study of pre-university program, students can not only learn Chinese and related basic subjects, but also participate in a variety of cultural experiences and social practice activities arranged by Fudan University to help students better and faster integrate into Fudan University, appreciate the charm of Shanghai city and experience the achievements of China's modernization development.

In order to help students to settle down, on-campus international students dormitories are available for students to apply. Students can make online reservations and choose a dorm within a specified time. In the exchanges with Chinese students, students can feel the strong campus culture atmosphere of "Learn widely, inquire earnestly, and deal with things thoughtfully." At the same time, students can also make sparks with outstanding young students from all over the world in multicultural exchange, improve multicultural understanding, expand international vision, form good cross-cultural ability and international competence, and have a higher starting point on the new journey of life.
